 NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

First of all, I'm happy to introduce my new colleague Dorothea Spenger who has completed the Foreign Rights Team in January.

As we are finally entering Spring, it's time to talk about our Fall 2017 program.

Bruckmann Verlag continues its successful series which not only make you dream of foreign countries and landscapes, but teach you how to travel best, whether on foot, by bike, by motorbike or motor-home.

Frederking & Thaler shows the world, Europe and Germany in breathtaking photography in a luxurious design.

National Geographic Germany goes west with Rammstein's Till Lindemann and east with the famous travel journalist Stefan Orth.

Modern culinary course books, regional cuisines, baking, health and fitness, and lifestyle; those are the topics Christian Verlag is covering this fall.

GeraMond takes you around the world on rail while on the other hand it teaches everything about aviation.

Enjoy our lists of magnificently illustrated volumes. Please let us know if you'd like to receive material.

My Pilgrim's Diary

Wilfried and Lisa Bahnmüller

Taking time out from busy schedules, finding ourselves, or getting closer to God: the reasons why pilgrims take to the road are many and varied, but most return to daily life all the richer for a spiritual experience. This pilgrim's diary is both a record of travel and a quiet companion. It captures pictures, impressions, and thoughts from the road and has space for memories, attractive routes, and special moments. This beautifully designed blank book is an ideal gift – for others or oneself.

My Hiking Diary

Long-distance hiking is all about being close to nature and getting away from it all for a few days – or more. It's about clearing the head and finally making the time to let our thoughts wander where they will. This Hiking Diary has lots of space to record attractive routes, trace euphoric emotions, and share the joy of being out and about. The attractively designed Hiking Diary, in convenient backpack format, contains useful information and is a great gift for hiking fans.

THE SERIES:

- Practical – with bookmark, penholder and slipcase
- Simple – with plenty of space for personal memories of the experience
- Compact – convenient backpack format

Freedom behind walls

Iran combines two worlds in a single country: while closely confined boundaries are set by guardians of virtues and Islamic tradition, Iran's people take a different route in their private lives, more western, more global, more freedom. Author Stephan Orth is familiar with both sides. In this illustrated volume he tells stories of people dreaming of leading a life in freedom. Moving photographs of courageous people, insights into a world of rich diversity and the desire for self-determination.

- Amazing in-depth insights into a fascinating country
- Mesmerizing photos of the freedoms great and small experienced by Iran's people
- An illustrated volume to accompany the bestselling book "Couchsurfing in Iran"

Stephan Orth, award-winning freelance journalist, is author of the best seller „Couchsurfing in Iran“ and of »Sorry, wir haben die Landebahn verfehlt«.

Mina Esfandiari is a freelance photographer with a focus on Iran and its inhabitants. She already took the photos accompanying „Couchsurfing in Iran“.

Samuel Zuder is an award-winning photographer working for magazines, catalogues and books. His last illustrated book was „Face to Faith“.
